Introduction

A BETTER TOMORROW FOR PALESTINE'S CHILDREN

Mohammad Shalaldeh
National Director
SOS Children's Villages - Palestine

Our donors, supporters and dear friends,

First, I would like to thank you very much for the support you have given us during the year! With your support, we have continued to provide care for children, young people and families at SOS Children's Villages Palestine. We will continue our work in the upcoming year to achieve a better thriving future for them.

SOS Children's Villages Palestine realizes that its' existence is one of the most important corner stones of the Palestinian State's governmental organizations regarding providing quality care and safe and caring environment for the child to grow and reach their full potential. Currently, due to the difficult economic and social circumstances of Palestinian families and the resulting increase in the number of children at risk of losing family care because of these problems. We must continue to work on developing our programmes, our services and expanding our work to a larger number of beneficiaries.

In 2019, we opened more Community Houses, Short Term Care Centers inside SOS Villages and developed new form of care "Reintegration with biological families" for children and youth whenever possible. We also continued empowering young people through empowerment and employability initiatives with different partners, as well empowering women to be able to support their children and provide family care.

At SOS Children's Villages - Palestine, we are working within the SOS International 2030 strategic plan for innovative alternative care solutions for children, strengthening vulnerable families to prevent their disintegration, developing youth capacities, supporting and advocating for children's rights and investing for growth in funding and other necessities in line with the plan. As the National Advisory Board for SOS Children's Villages Palestine had supported the mission of SOS Children's Villages International and directed the work of SOS Palestine in parallel with Palestinian culture.

Finally, I leave you with latest SOS achievements in 2019. As we hope to continue working together towards a better life for children, youth and SOS families.

SARAH ... MADE HER DREAMS AND AMBITIONS OUT OF DIFFICULTIES

Sarah lived through difficult circumstances that began when she was six-year-old girl living with her family. Her parents were separated, so no one was able to take care of her and her brothers. As a result they came to SOS Children's Village in Bethlehem.

Sarah dreamed that she would return with her family and siblings to meet their mother and father. She continued to study with great efforts until her dreams come true. She was interested in music and piano playing.

"My dream was fulfilled when I was seventeen years old. I reunited with my family, my siblings and I went to live with my mother."

When the family was reunited and Sarah and her siblings felt the family's security more, her dreams grew larger and she had an ambition to be accepted in university.

"My mother's dream was that she would study at Birzeit University. I liked to fulfill her dream and enroll at Birzeit University."

One of the things that Sarah cherishes most is her diligence to succeed in high school and enter the university. She worked hard in her studies than before and was accepted into Birzeit University, majoring in administrative and banking sciences.

"My story, my dreams and my aspirations were not realized on their own, and I certainly got great support from an angel who guarded, guided, and helped me with providing all reasons for success, and she is my SOS mother"

Rafah Education

ERUTUF RETHGIRB SDRAWOT PETST SRIF ,NOITACUDE

Omar is in the third grade at Hermann Gmeiner SOS School in Rafah. He lives with his family in the SOS House, under the care of Mama Kifah; an alternative SOS mother who takes care of seven children including the 8-year-old Omar.

 Mama Kifah says: "Omar helps me tutoring his sister some letters. He loves to study and wishes to be a teacher in the future, and I always encourage him to fulfill his wish." .

Omar lived among difficult family conditions with his natural family, which prevented him from living his childhood like all of his friends, that is before he joined the SOS Children's Village in Rafah. He was not able to play and spend the happy childhood moments like the rest of his companions due to the lack of a safe family atmosphere.

During the first period with his SOS family at SOS Children's Village in Rafah, Omar was suffering from the inability to write or read, and has difficult health problems that no one cared about treating which could have affected his future. He also preferred not to talk to anyone about his feelings, desires, or wishes.

With the help of Mama Kifah and after joining his SOS family, Omar got used to the lovely family atmosphere, got excellent grades at school and became more interactive and involved in the school and society. He started telling his SOS mother all the details of his day and expressing his great longing for her upon his return from visiting his natural family. Omar gained back his brightness and laughter, which circumstances forced him to lose. Nowadays, he is energetic , engaged in activities loved by those around him, and he has become more stable and balanced.

'I ACHIEVED SOMETHING'

A Palestinian mother confronts society to create a better life for her children

Deciding to divorce and raise her two children alone was a hard decision for Nadera. Divorce comes with stigma for women in her Palestinian community and can even be an impediment in finding work.

But Nadera's former husband did not take responsibility for the children as a parent or breadwinner. For the sake of her children, she felt she needed to take control. However, without a job or formal education, she struggled.

"My life before I got support from SOS Children's Villages Palestine was limited," says Nadera, 36. "I didn't know who to turn to for guidance, because I was divorced and this is a problem in our society." Her daughter, Bayan*, and son, Fadi*, were quite young when the couple divorced more than 10 years ago. Raising them by herself was particularly difficult since her son's medical issues required long stays in the hospital. What Nadera lacked in skills and education she made up with a fierce determination to build a life for herself and her children. She had the courage to face the insecurity and stereotypes of divorce for the chance of a better future. "I'm a fighter when it comes to raising my children," she says. Nadera turned to SOS Children's Villages Palestine for guidance and support. Through an SOS programme that helps about 600 vulnerable families in both the West Bank and Gaza, Nadera received psychosocial and emotional counseling as well as financial support to open a small clothing boutique in 2017. "My dream was to have a clothing boutique and it was fulfilled by SOS Children's Villages," Nadera says. "It takes care of all our financial needs and especially my son's medical needs."

"Now I have created some independency in our own home in which my children feel warmth and independent in their life," she adds.

Rafah Programme

A SMALL PROJECT STANDS FOR A BIG DREAM OF FAMILY SUPPORT

Mahmoud works to support his family after receiving support through the Family Strengthening Program. Where he started the ornamental birds project in 2019, which achieved remarkable success in a short period. He became a source of security and support for his family and his child Rami which boosted his willingness to live.

The family of Mahmoud -52 years old-, joined the Family Strengthening Programme since 2017, where he lives with his wife and 12-year-old son Rami, who had been adopted as a baby. Because both parents desired to have a family of their own and take care of a child whom they lost care and love. The child grew up with his parents' care, but the difficult economic conditions in Gaza Strip prevented them from providing the protection and care necessary for a decent life for their only child.

Rami's parents went through many difficulties to be able to raise him, as they were unable to provide themselves and him with treatment. But when they entered the program, the partner association, with the help of SOS Children's Villages Palestine, provided them with the necessary treatment in addition to psychological support and correct guidance, and thus the family witnessed an improvement on the health level.

Rami was also integrated into an educational center to take tutoring lessons, and was also enrolled in a youth capacity building project to receive courses in English language, life skills and information technology.

At that time, the parents participated in many trainings to build their skills in social upbringing, parenting, life, and combating gender-based violence, in order to create a healthy environment for their child to grow up. The family became stable after receiving economic empowerment training in 2019 and then qualified to receive the income-generating project of birds.

Mahmoud says, "I did not imagine that under difficult living conditions I would be able to stand on my feet. I did it, thanks to the project. I will not stop, but rather expanded it in order to support my family, especially now that I can give my child a bright future."
